There's a pattern emerging
The times there a turnin
I can't feel my fingers
The coldness it lingers
We can't get this right (then leave them behind)
We can't get this right (we're chasin the bright lights)

We're running down hallways and sleepin in doorways
The cast of my life, they beg for the knife
We're running down hallways and sleepin in doorways
The coldness outside, it bites me inside.

I know that he's never gonna let it go,
Show me something honest, show me melodies and harmonies.

I never thought I'd say to you: can we start on something new, someone help me
Drift away, drift away.

Ohhh, well he's leaving and not breathin in,
This could be the end to the father of the family.

I never thought I'd say to you: can we start on
something new, someone help me
Drift away, drift away.

[Chorus]
There's someone over me, someone over me
Help me
Conversations bleak and we're running out of sympathy.

Wind it up, let it go
No-ones ever told me no.
It's the first time, every time, like the me without the I.
[x2]

I've been trying my best not to touch the success,
'cos I'm thinkin you're worthy but
Darling you're nothing.

I'm reaching for nothing (I'm hungry for something)
I'm reaching for nothing (the detectives are dusting)

We're running down hallways and sleepin in doorways
The cast of my life, they beg for the knife
We're running down hallways and sleepin in doorways
The coldness outside, it bites me inside.

You take me out and call me late what's your reason.
I'm much more than a rebound baby don't fit the season.
What you see is what you get,
This is honesty in men.
This is heartbreak sessions and I'm learnin my lessons.

If I was to say to you: where do I fit in this room?
Jealousy's an ugly thing but reputations everything.

Chorus [x2]
