Everybody's got a fucking problem
To solve it that is the challenge
Sifting through the bullshit and lies
Makes life hard to balance

I've got no uncle named SAM
Do not lump me in with the lie of the land
I was not born with a whip in my hand

Sympathy whores and convenience stores are raping our self esteem
If you want those crooks and their pocket books
We've got to control mainstream
Hit those crooks in their pocket books
And we will own the mainstream

You can scream and holler
If you want the politicians to listen vote with your dollar

Do you know how and where you stand?
Or are you part of the lie of the land?
Do you know how and where your family stands?
Or are you part of the lie of the land?
