

Break Out The Shotguns "Cryptoamnesia"

Visit "Cryptoamnesia" on MotoLyrics.com

I won't forget you, no
Not after all we've been through It's been so long I feel I know I'm here for something more I call it providence, you call it fate but God himself he knows my days

its you who brought me through It's God who brought me through.

All I want is something to remember you by
By the time it's all right, you'll be on the other side
I'll wait for anything from you We're returning to pick up the pieces.

This is a new beginning.
We are the same as we once were You'll see the change in everything Cut short from being all you need.

I'm not your enemy. ..

All I want is something to remember you by
By the time it's all right, you'll be on the other side
I'll wait for anything from you We're returning to pick up the pieces.
This fight is overrated, breathe darling, think of me Reach out and see the exit Breathe, darling, think of me.

Visit Break Out The Shotguns page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.