Darling, are you ok?
Now the world has gone astray
And I miss you everyday of my life

Lover, stay
'Til the light washes us away
That day, that day will come
And that that day will hurt

Softly I spread my wings to fly
But one day you and I will fall to earth

Darling, be afraid
Everyone you love will be taken away
And that day, that day will come
As surely as your birth

Lover, stay
'Til the light washes us away
And all I have to say is
I love you too much

Softly I spread my wings to fly
But one day even I will fall to earth

And that day, that day will come
And that day will hurt
