I can see the look in their eyes
Their fears, cold tears fall
To the ground
And their words just echo more lies
More plans, blood stained hands
Are all around
CHORUS:
Look at me I'm watching worlds crumble
Look at me I'm making walls tumble
Take my hand, Oh! Lord it's all I've got
Look at me I'm watching worlds crumble
With their hearts they ask me to stay
One life, one voice, calling me
I see their eyes and I can't look away
Oh! God why do people have to suffer everyday
I know, there's more than just you
You know it's all I can do
