Listen for the sound of your heart beneath your skin You're standing tall, it's the end but that's where I begin

Should you decide to give your life away Welcome to the other side it will blow your mind And you will come around anyway

The rhythm of your love will make you bleed
The rhythm of your love is what I need
The rhythm of your love is a golden crown
The rhythm of your love comes a tumbling down

The rhythm of your love will make you bleed
The rhythm of your love is what I need
The rhythm of your love is a golden crown
The rhythm of your love comes a tumbling down

So love takes its toll a dream you never had Now you're moving slow see them smile, it's so sad Oh, you gotta make up your mind Before they steal your heart away Man, are you in or out, up or down? You'll live to fight another day

The rhythm of your love will make you bleed
The rhythm of your love is what I need
The rhythm of your love is a golden crown
The rhythm of your love comes a tumbling down

The rhythm of your love will make you bleed
The rhythm of your love is what I need
The rhythm of your love is a golden crown
The rhythm of your love comes a tumbling down

The rhythm of your love will make you bleed The rhythm of your love is what I need The rhythm of your love is a golden crown The rhythm of your love comes a tumbling down
