I watched you fight through all of the pain.
Anger: I feel it when I hear your name.
I tried to help you the best that I can.
Destroying me now won't make you a man.
Believing all the lies from you who gave me life.
Hating you as you die, I could not say good-bye.
I am still hearing all that was said—the nightmare we lived still stuck in my head.
The memories left seem more like a mess.
Now you are gone, and it's for the best.

Believing all the lies from you, who gave me life.
Hating you as you die, I could not say good-bye.
What it's worth.
Recoil memories of you, out of control.
Say it was all out of love, when you never had a soul.
Just rot.
Now, you are dead to me anyway.
The pain you have caused me will fade away.
I will go on, you will remain.
You think you tried, and I think you're insane.
