What kind of wish do you think can't come true?
When you can even believe in society dreams are unlimited
Not even questioning anything, all was satisfied, all was forgiven

One by one when you learn the way things work we learn we can no longer live as kids Whenever seeing people far away
I feel the time's breath upon me

To somewhere, not here...my chest burns
The innocent time has passed and now everyone is a warrior
The scent of the wind never again to be inhaled
Opening many doors from hereon the pain diminishes

The landscape I'm familiar with Come to think of it I've listened to the old love songs until they faded
The beaten shoes we challenged each other how far we can fly
I've ended up on a different path from such friends

Like the flower blooming by the road
I sing with all my strength
If you feel the same, even on days I can't see you...

Even if it was forbidden yes we went to sea
Cast the mast up to the south on this unwavered soul
In a world with only sorrow, on nights of sentiments
I only sleep with someone's kind love song

Lovers that press lips which can't talk of love on the lonely cheek
There's no reason to stay here Even the shine is as it is supposed to be

To somewhere, not here...my chest burns

The innocent time has passed and now everyone is a
warrior

Cast the mast up to the south on this unwavered soul
In a world with only sorrow, on nights of sentiments
If only I can grant our wish
