The powerlines went out
And I am all alone
But I don't really care at all not answering my phone
All the games you played, the promises you made Couldn't finish what you started only darkness still remains

Lost sight, couldn't see
When it was you and me
Blow the candles out, looks like a solo tonight
I'm beginning to see the light
Blow the candles out, looks like a solo tonight
But I think I'll be alright

Been black and blue before
There's no need to explain
I am not the jaded kind playback's such a waste
You're invisible, invisible to me, my wish is coming true erase the memory of your face

Lost sight, couldn't see
When it was you and me
Blow the candles out, looks like a solo tonight
I'm beginning to see the light
Blow the candles out, looks like a solo tonight
But I think I'll be alright

One day you will wake up
With nothing but your sorrys
And someday you will get back
Everything you gave me

Blow the candles out, looks like a solo tonight
I'm beginning to see the light
Blow the candles out, looks like a solo tonight
But I think I'll be alright
