You can take all of the Money that you made
And put it in a jar

Dragged outta my
That'll show you
Is heaven very far
You can take all of them
Letters that you need til you
Find out who you are

And maybe you can figure why
That woman wanna be so cruel
But you just can't forget her
Can you, fool

Oh, the winter nights and city lights
And the crying of the train
Every day, the hate of rain
Every memory's a pain

And you finally used
The sense God gave you
To come out of the rain

And still you can't figure why
That woman wanna be so cruel
But you just can't forget her
Can you, fool

Love is long and love is hard
And love brings lots of pain
For she was here and now she's gone
Please bring her back again

Now you can take all of
The money that you made
And put it in a jar
Dragged outta my
That'll show you
Is heaven very far

You can take all of that
Medicine you need til you
Find out who you are

And maybe you can figure why
That woman wanna be so cruel
But you just can't forget her
Can you, fool
