As I look into these eyes I've known for all these years
I see for the first time in my life, fear
This is not the road I wanted for us, but now that's it's here
I want to make one thing perfectly clear

All I want to be for you is strong
I'm going to be the one you can count on
I'll always be for you strong

I am a broken prize all neatly wrapped but cracked inside
All the King's horses and all His men, they lied
As I look at you and at my life, what do I see?
The person that I wish that I could be

All I want to be for you is strong
I'm going to be the one you can count on
I'll always be for you strong

So strong
It's strong, so strong
Don't you know it can't go wrong?
Strong
