

Glen Campbell "You Might As Well Smile"

Visit "You Might As Well Smile" on MotoLyrics.com

You're still the best person I ever knew
There were a thousand little things that I was always
Just about to say to you

But the now time, it grows shorter for the speeches
Just let me leave you with the line
It might help you pass the time, sometimes

You might as well smile
Ain't no tears gonna drown the rain, keeps on falling
You might as well smile
Ain't no pain gonna change what still remains

You might as well regain, babe
Your lost serenity, serenity and shine it on me
Shine it on me

I remember times when you held me
You'd freeze my spine
We were looking in the mirror at the time
I got confused and I thought your eyes were mine

But now the time, it grows shorter for the secrets
Just let me leave you with some truth
Might help you hold on to your jewels, sometimes

You might as well smile
Ain't no tears gonna drown the rain, keeps on falling
You might as well smile
Ain't no pain gonna change what still remains

You might as well maintain, babe
Protect your sanity, your sanity and shine it on me
Shine it on me, shine it on me
Shine it on me

Visit Glen Campbell page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.