Lonely girl, rainy night, looking for that number
She needs someone to treat her right
There's plenty of men she could call, but she wants him most of all
Oh God, I hope he's home tonight
She needs a love from a real exciter
She needs the allnighter
The allnighter

He's the one, the one she calls when she gets that feeling
Some nights she just can't help herself
He's tough and tender, a soul bender
Ain't no service he can't render
He touches her like nobody else
Brings out the love, love, love deep inside her
He's the allnighter

Now other stimulation lets you down, down, down
There ain't no medication laying round, round, round
You feel your little heart begin to pound and pound
He's the satisfier of that one desire

Other guy's come and go they may try but they din't know
Every girl needs special care
Ah he's so bad, he's so good he makes her feel just the way it should
Nobody else can take her there
He's the real thing the pure delighter
He's the allnighter
The allnighter
It's getting lighter
There goes the allnighter
