Don't you know that you're the one
That my dreams depend upon
All alone, crying out for you

Cool out with me tonight
You don't have to start no fight
All alone, hoping you are too

You don't know what I've been through
Heaven knows what I've been through
What is meant, is meant to be
Only you can set me free

Who will you run to?
Where will you go?
Who will you run to?
Where will you go?

Every man must have his day
The pride of his country that's the way
When he is king, he will have the say

Cool out with me tonight
You don't have to start no fight
Crying out, hoping you are too

You don't know what I've been through
Heaven knows what I've been through

What is meant is meant to be
Only you can set me free

Who will you run to?
Where will you go?
Who will you run to?
Where will you go?

You don't know what I've been through
Heaven knows what I've been through
What is meant is meant to be
Only you can set me free

Who will you run to?
Where will you go?
Who will you run to?
Where will you go?

Who will you run to?
Where will you go?
Who will you run to?
Where will you go?

Who will you run to?
Where will you go?
