I have cried all night
Trying to make it better
I recognize my pain
Things are getting harder
For us to be in this love

And my tears wash away my smile
And I'm drowning in my sorrow
There's no hope for today
I can't see my tomorrow
'Cause we are no longer in love

This love, your love, my love
It used to be our love
This love, your love, my love
It used to be our love, love, love

I've been blazed all day
Dreading confrontation
I've waited until now
For this conversation to take place
That we're wasting time

With this love, I'm trying to be nice
Don't want you to be a hater
We've had our beautiful sons
So we gotta be one, sooner or later
'Cause we've got so much more, than this love

This love, your love, my love
It used to be our love
This love, your love, my love
It used to be our love, love, love

Can we still be, can we still be friends?
It will all end in tears if we decide
To leave, but stay, I'm so confused
I cant go on this way, I just can't go on, on this way

This love, your love, my love
It used to be our love
This love, your love, our love

It used to be our love, love, love

What happened to my love baby?

Now we got to think about our sons

So now it's over babe, now it's over baby, babe
