Don't say my name if you don't want to speak to me
Don't you point, stare, and whisper in each other's ears
Come up to me and say, "Hello, my name is..."
Or look away and avoid my stare, it's lethal... it's lethal...

Don't go by what you hear
Gossip can be misleading
And don't go by what you see
Appearances can be deceiving

Don't run away from me if you heard I'm a heartbreaker
There may be more to what you heard than what you've been told
If you come up to me and say, "Hello, my name is..."
I'll give a sneak peak at my broken heart

You'd be surprised how much you're missing
If you avoid the eyes of the people in disguise
You'd be surprised how much you're missing
If you're listening... are you listening?
