Make up and mirrors absorb all your focus
And theres no time for me
I dont want it to be this way

If I have to battle reflections
And powder for your nose
Then Ill be dust and blow to shore

Oh, what is that!?
Youre taking time to choose for me
Or a bottle of Halloween mask cream
Oh, you make me laugh
Ill tell you a secret

I dont care how many pounds of mascara your wear
Or the brand of the pants on your legs
I just want you here with me now

Vanity is trite
I wear jeans and a tee every day
And I cant get them off fast enough to be where you lay
Do you get it now?

Ill take you back
As long you are true to me
And not your lipstick or your left cheek
Are you ready for that?

Everywhere I go people stop and they say
Are you lost or just waiting for her to believe
That shes ready
That its red fate
