Ok, well, what's it all about
It's alright to change your mind
But whenever you found what you must find
Just remember, i'm holding on the line
So take advice from an old friend
To the heart you must be true
While you're doing all the things you do
Know that always, i'm in love with you

And it's hard for me to stay away
When my emotions so alive
So i try to live just day to day
Never knowing where love's leading us to
Is there no end, is there no end
For will our hearts join over and over again, again

Sometimes i cannot understand what is going on inside
Why you're always, always on my mind
'cause forever is such a long, long time
To awake, so may i make it clear
Love is never win or lose
It isn't something we can even choose
When true passion has slowly lit the fuse

And it's hard for me to stay away
When my emotions's so alive
So i try to live just day to day
Never knowing where love's Leading us to
Is there no end, is there no end
For will our hearts join over and over again, again

Ok, well, what's it all about
