When someone comes into your life
Take a chance, my love
Forget all the pain that's inside
Open up your heart
You'll forget as she's touching
Your face that I once held you
In my embrace
It might even feel right when you
Kiss her goodnight and not me
If someone should hold down her hand
Make her yours, my love
Don't know how long it may last,
Oh, how fast love goes
You'll forget me one day, don't you know

But your memories I'll never let go
I will love you the same as I did that
First day I found you
When someone comes into your life
Never close the door
What you're looking for
Might be in your arms at last
Don't run away
When someone comes into your life

Hold fast
When someone looks into your eyes
Don't refuse their love
You can't live the rest of your life
With a broken heart

You'll forget me one day, don't you know
But your memories I'll never let go
And when love comes to stay
I hope she loves you the way
I love you
When someone comes into your life
Never close the door
What you're looking for
Might be in your arms at last
Don't run away
When someone comes into your life

If someone comes into your life
When someone comes into your life
Hold fast, hold fast
