Well there were those the world may never know, faces never recognised but through the myriad of day to day, they guide us through our lives, So here I am standing centre stage,
where you always said I'd be.
Now I realise all the good in you brought out the best in me.

CHORUS:

You always knew this would be my season
you always knew, you never stop believing, you always said hold on your dreams can all come true, you always knew.

Well I can say I made it on my own, that my own hands have put me through congradulate myself for all I've done but darling here's to you.

CHORUS

You always knew.
