So glad I hung up the phone,
My best friend called
And told me not to go
I'd just get my heart broke one more time
I walked in and there you were,
Looking better than I ever remembered
Smiling that smile
Like nothing ever happened,
You were never not mine

Crazy, I know, I know

Ain't that the way it goes,
Always stumbling into something,
Life's an open road,
You gotta take it,
If you just let go,
Lose your way to find that one thing
You've been missing...
You almost missed it all

So glad, I turned around,
I know where I'd be right now
Somewhere downtown thinking about,
What could have been,
And love would never be again
Crazy I know, I know

Ain't that the way it goes,
Always stumbling into something,
Life's an open road,
You gotta take it,
If you just let go,
Lose your way to find that one thing
That you've been missing...
You almost missed it all

But I didn't, I turned that car around,
Thank god I put that phone down
So glad I didn't listen,
I never know what I'd be missing

Ain't that the way it goes,
Always stumbling into something,
Life's an open road,
You gotta take it,

Crazy I know, I know

Ain't that the way it goes,
Always stumbling into something,
Life's an open road,
You gotta take it,
If you just let go,
Lose your way to find that one thing
That you've been missing...

Ain't that the way it goes,
Always stumbling into something,
Life's an open road,
You gotta take it,
If you just let go,
You've been missing...
