All the stars keep on falling around us
We were almost broken
Holding on as we felt our worlds collide, collide

Sometimes all the answers, baby,
Are right outside your door
Sometimes all we need is a little time, time

There's no going back to the start again
Time will tell us how the story ends
So beautiful, we can make it right
The world is ours tonight
The only thing I have is everything to lose
I would lay it all on the line for you
To be here by my side
The world is ours tonight

Turn the pages, we'll write another chapter
Be the last one standing
Burn those bridges down and we'll never go back, no
We don't need all the answers baby
We've just gotta try
I refuse to walk away this time, this time

There's no going back to the start again
Time will tell us how the story ends
So beautiful, we can make it right
The world is ours tonight
The only thing I have is everything to lose
I would lay it all on the line for you
To be here by my side
The world is ours tonight

There's no going back to the start again
Time will tell us how the story ends
So beautiful, we can make it right
The world is ours tonight
The only thing I have is everything to lose
I would lay it all on the line for you
To be here by my side
To be there by your side
The world is ours tonight

The world is ours tonight
The world is ours tonight
