I've been searching
I've been thinking
I can't keep rolling like a broken stone
I've been praying
Lord don't let me
Walk through life empty and alone

No one ever loved me like you do
You know I've been let down a time or two
I was all but lost, I was nowhere bound
You came along and turned my world around
Ooh

You've been patient,
You've been honest
You asked for nothing but a hand to hold
You've been fearless
When you whisper
A simple promise worth it's weight in gold

No one ever loved me like you do
You know I've been let down a time or two
I was all but lost, I was nowhere bound
You came along and turned my world around

One kiss, one touch
One look could say so much
One dream, so right
Two hearts are one tonight

We've been tested
We've been lucky
We found each other in this endless crowd
We've been blessed
Our search is over
Forever starts right here, right now

No one ever loved me like you do
You know I've been let down a time or two
I was all but lost, I was nowhere bound
You came along and turned my world around

You know you turned my world around
Ooh, ooh
You know you turned my world around
