I struggle to write
I struggle for letters to piece into words

Written by the most lovesick for the epitome of beauty
I tore away half my words
The most crushing lyrics would never do justice

[Chorus:]

Under the clouds, under the stars I kiss you
And you're making me love you
Please don't say another word
I give you this, I give you myself
So please take care of me
I've been crying you suspect
You'll never know for sure
I've shed tears to bring you back
I don't know what worse
Knowing you're not here, or that I'll see you soon
It's never soon enough
It's never soon enough

[Chorus 2x]

If I could relive yesterday
I wouldn't let go in the morning
That's when your skin captures all the beauty ever known
