

Glory Of This "Uncomfortable Silence"

"Make up your mind this time, your efforts show that you don't try"

I still remember the fear that made me turn and walk away

"Our scars remind us of, the moments we were less than loved"

That's why we live to keep from falling apart

Sometimes it's better not to know

"I will take back control, and tear away!"

At the words that weakened me, I know that I am better than this.

Hold on tightly to the innocence you claim, so you claim, but I know better

We have come so far only to give up on ourselves

Hold on tightly, your grip is loosening,

I should be used to this, but I know better.
