I let go, take my heart
Mold me I beg of You
Wash my brain pure
With Your Spirit
Soften my soul so I'm not so hard
Fire burn in me, a violent fire refining my heart
Love burn within me, a pillar of love piercing through my heart
Burn away all of the false visions that are inside of me
Please consume the hate with the flames
So I'll believe You and not have to fake
I'll try to hold still while You fix me
I trust in Your hand, and trust that You see
All that I need is Your voice... And that's it, thank you Father set me alight
Too hot for hell to hold
Absent of all shame
About to explode
Love is God is Love
Smoldering coals in mind you've set
Igniting to bring me life, kill death
Suddenly with Your voice I'm released
Now my heart I'll never de cease
Burn away all of the false visions that are inside of me
Burn away, so that only You may live in me
Burn away, when You set me on fire, my spirits awake
Burn away, I feel all of the flesh melting off of my face
