Sometimes I don't think right,
It's just my natural instinct,
But it all comes down,
To love.

Locked doors were all that I came to,
Hoping now you would give me a key,
All I saw,
Was running away from me.

Expectations, hesitations, explanations,
In my world.
Suffocations, frustrations, limitations,
In my world.

It's never a good thing, worse than a bad day,
And if you want me, you can have me,
All you have to do is ask me.
It's never a good thing, worse than a bad day,
And if you want me, you can have me,
All you have to do is ask me.

I know I learned a lesson,
But it wasn't all that easy,
I just can't let you go.
Can't let go.

Realize it's for the better,
But you're still in my heart,
Now,
And forever.

Expectations, hesitations, explanations,
In my world.
Suffocations, frustrations, limitations,
In my world.
Expectations, hesitations, explanations,
In my world.
Suffocations, frustrations, limitations,
In my world.

It's never a good thing, worse than a bad day,

And if you want me, you can have me,
All you have to do is ask me.
It's never a good thing, worse than a bad day,
And if you want me, you can have me,
All you have to do is ask me.

"Things were difficult at first,
I felt trapped and so alone.
And now that your feelings have changed,
All I can say is 'too bad'."

It's never a good thing, worse than a bad day,
And if you want me, you can have me,
All you have to do is ask me.
It's never a good thing, worse than a bad day,
And now that you want me, you can't have me,
All you had to do was ask me.

You can't have me,
Now that you want me.
You can't have me,
Now that you want me.
You can't have me,
Now that you want me.
You can't have me,
You can't have me!
