I see you in the clouds,
So high you can't come down,
Afraid of what will happen,
On you're first among the town,
I see your golden hair,
It's like lightning in-between 2 shades of red and passion
While you're standing next to me

And I stand still
Heartless next to you
Standing with one more chance
To try and find the words
That I should say to you say to you say to you

I see you in the clouds
Oh please will you step down
And let me take your hand,
So I can hold you on the ground,
I know it sounds the same
As those you took before
But unlike times before
Ull end up somewhere more

And ill sand still heatless next to you

Standing with one more chance
To try to find the words what I should Say to you say to you

What happened to those nights
When we lay cold toes in bed
Dark light oh baby please turn on the light
So we can see what where looking for

I see you in the clouds
I see you in the clouds (clouds)

And I stand still
Heartless next to you with one more chance
To try and find the words
And I stand still

Heartless next to you with one more chance
To try and find the words
With one more chance
To try find the words
That I should say to you say to you say to you
