(J. Reed - Hubbard)

Well, I was born to be by your side
Yes, I was born to be by your side.

Now everything has it's purpose
And ever body has a place
The way mother nature got the world set up
There ain't a single thing to waste.

She made a place for the stars that twinkle
She made a place for the deep blue sea
She made a place for the trees
The birds and the bees and she even made a place for me.

'Cause I was born to be by your side
Yes, I was born to be by your side
I wouldn't want to live without you
I couldn't even if I tried
'Cause I was born to be by your side.

I remember every boy I been with
And every kiss I've sampled and tried
I said they all looked different
They all were nice, but they never quite satisfied.

I thought love would never find me
Yes, I had my moments of doubt
But when you cam along all the lights came on
And I suddenly figured it out.

'Cause, I was born to be by your side
Yes, I was born to be by your side
I said I wouldn't want to live without you
I couldn't even if I tried.

'Cause, I was born to be by your side
Yes, I was born to be by your side
Yes, I was born now
To be right by your side...
