(J. Hinson)

You've got to find yourself another puppet
Break the strings and set me free
Find yourself another puppet
Cause you ain't pulling nothing else on me.

Your puppets all I am
It's all I've ever been
Your funny little clown that you keep hanging round
Well, one thing I don't need is you
To tell me what to say or do
Cause if I can't be myself
I won't be no one else.

You've got to find yourself another puppet
Break the strings and set me free
Find yourself another puppet
Cause you ain't pulling nothing else on me.

You never understood, my hearts ain't made of wood
And I ain't gonna dance, ever time you move your hand
So find yourself another fool
Cause this ones pulling way from you
Cause if I can't be myself
Well I won't be no one else.

You've have to find yourself another puppet
Break the strings and set me free
Find yourself another puppet
Cause you ain't pulling nothing else on me.

Go on and find yourself another puppet
Break the strings and set me free
Find yourself another puppet
Cause you ain't pulling nothing else on me...
