(J. Lee)

I hear you put your happiness
In the hands of someone new
That's alright, I guess
I want the best for you.

But if anything goes wrong
If your plan should fall apart
If you should stumble and fall
Let your love fall back on me.

If your love not being used
If your happiness falls through
If your life's not what it should be
Let your love fall back on me.

If all I hear is true
There'll soon be wedding bells
I guess you've set the date
I guess I wish you well.

If you find the road is real hard
Or you find things aren't going well
If you should stumble and fall
Let your love fall back on me.

If your love not being used
If your happiness falls through
If your life's not what it should be
Let your love fall back on me.

If your love not being used
If your happiness falls through
If your life's not what it should be
Let your love fall back on me.

If your love not being used
If your happiness falls through
If your life's not what it should be
Let your love fall back on me...
