Wait this isn't me
That you're talking to
This is a front that I put on
The Verse
In every song
In every word

And say whatever you can
The story's a lie
They fed us an ending
That left us alright
And this is the world
And this is the page

From a book I wouldn't read,
For goodness sake

And right now where you are I guess you're over it
But I can't see
How you without me
Could possibly make any sense
And right now all you need is just some time to mend
Oh well take all you need
But my sanity is forever riding on this

Spell it I M-I-S-S
I miss you

And talk a little bit more
So I hear a voice
And maybe you'll talk me out into the light
And I'd see the dark and laugh in it's face

And I pray
Wherever you are
That this is the night
And this is the girl that I'll love all my life
And this is the song that she's waiting for

Oh and she's calling out the words
So we sing some more

And right now where you are I guess you're over it
But I can't see
How you without me
Could possibly make any sense
And right now all you need is just some time to mend
Oh well take all you need
But my sanity is forever riding on this

Spell it I M-I-S-S
I miss you

and she's calling out the words
So we sing some more

And right now where you are I guess you're over it
But I can't see
How you without me
Could possibly make any sense
And right now all you need is just some time to mend
Oh well take all you need
But my sanity is forever riding on this

And right now where you are I guess you're over it (I M-
I-S-S
I miss you)
But I can't see (I M-I-S-S)
How you without me (I miss you)
Could possibly make any sense
And right now all you need is just some time to mend (I
M-I-S-S
I miss you)
Oh well take all you need (I M-I-S-S)
But my sanity is forever riding on this (I miss you)

Spell it I M-I-S-S
I miss you
