I must assume you're looking at me cause i know somethings that we need to know about here and we pretend that we both got wings and both of us sing so we'll sing till we fly out of here

Oh maybe then we'll come back down ya maybe then we'll come back down

Can we believe in things we cant see without them we seem to disappear like we evaporate and when we leave untraceable seams that tear and we bleed we need a martyr that wont hesitate

And i was hoping things were better something we could write in letters singing this is where we are. here and counting scars the fight for something greater left us dead and barely breathing singing
this is where we are. cut out for shooting stars

And i miss the way we lived in our dreams when trust had meaning when we were young and we were proud of this when we defined ourselves by our screams cause life by no means seemed to give us both the best of it

But i guess maybe we can come back down and even maybe we can come back down

something we could write in letters singing
the fight for something greater left us dead and barely
breathing singing

Ready or not, we're changing the world

We've got to be strong, we've got to hold on

Ready or not
