I found hope in the back of a closet Written by a child and on pieces of parchment yellowed and old I've never seen that kind of belief I set to read a story of kindness where even just one kiss could change how we read this and help us get lost in the pattern so ageless it conquers the cost When did we all resolve to growing up means stand aside
Where did the heroes go cause tonight we breathe to stand and fight
We will run til we all can feel the sun
Until we all can bleed as one
Until we all collapse
We'll always know to close the distance
Run like it's time that's chasing us
Like you will never find enough
Like you forgot the words give up and live
To close the distance
Can you say you remember a time when all you had was a dream and a promise to fight when you were sure you were gone and there wasn't a hope to carry on well in these days we can live with a passion we only deserve when we cherish the burden of the brothers beside when we carry the bones that cant walk on their own
When did we all resolve to growing up means stand
Where did the heroes go cause tonight we breathe to
stand and fight
We will run til we all can feel the sun
Until we all can bleed as one
Until we all collapse
We'll always know to close the distance
Run like it's time that's chasing us
Like you will never find enough
Like you forgot the words give up and live
To close the distance
When you say sing to me I will sing like everyone is listening like current company think the words we speak right now mean everything Like we all should feel the sun

Until we all can bleed as one
Until we all collapse
Weâ€™ll always know to close the distance Run like itâ€™s time thatâ€™s chasing us
Like you will never find enough
To close the distance
Close the distance
