And lips that bring the softest kiss
That brush your fingertips
As you think about the way you hope she thinks about your days
That you don't find the words to say Just why you'd rather close your eyes Then feel her as her sighs take you way to far away and bring you closer to the break
And then you lay there wide awake Cause if you could you'd start it over it's a game it's one you can't refuse to play She's like a drug you can't get over never conscious never sober
So you pray and pray and pray

So fight fight cause you're fighting for your life Somebody call a medic she just went automatic Hands up like you're reaching for the sky praying for a heartbeat

You try to find another sound

That takes you to the ground
To pull your head out of the clouds
A breath to bring you down
And let the court become the clown Cause if you could you'd start it over it's a game it's one you can't refuse to play
She's like a drug you can't get over never conscious
never sober
So you pray and you pray and you pray

There's a dream with a girl
And she catches my eye as she dances and swirls I wake up in a sweat and I try to remember her face but forget
The feel of her skin the weight on my chest
The taste of her lips I've been dreaming of since don't wake up
