Lyrics: Robert and Grant were you born or just conceived? whatever comes, crosses me there's no routine, I've never lived like this what can I say?
there's lightning on the hill tonight
over in the west
the colour changes shape and slides I'm not stuck to be inspired by her or by me get this, and how, I'm lifted way way down too tired to say too weak to speak I've got a feeling, sounds like a fact it's been around as long as that there is a notion you've got it too
it's been around as long as that where can you go?
the thunder settles in and waits trams on the rattle windows banging shut like gates slap my face use your lungs she brought me more to life you think I'm young I'm not half those things why did it rain?
the days ran away from us heaven never knew the chances that it left for us fast and slow, breeze to wind wrapped beneath her you take charge

I'll put you at ease
too tired to say too weak to speak
it's been around as long as that
it's been around as long as that
what can I say?
think of someone and double it that's what I did

get this and how, I'm lifted way way down
it's been around as long as that
it's been around as long as that as long, as long, as long, as long as that what's wrong, what's wrong, what's wrong what's wrong with that
