You act so tough But I know what you're doing You think falling in love You build your walls so high You act your life out all alone Means falling to ruin You don't want to let me see CHORUS That your heart's not made out of stone Why you feel the way you do The world makes it's rotations There may be some explanation But I just want to turn to you Come on let me turn to you Why not let me turn to you Just want to turn to you Please let me turn to you With the first time that we met It has a lot to do Made up for what was never said The wild dance in your eyes Stop spending all our precious time Gotta get my message Because before you know it Stop spending all our precious time We'll be down to our last dime CHORUS
