Light reflects,
The darkened moon tonight,
Your make-up smeared across your face tells me,
You're not fine,
Just a line that you recite,
I can see that,
Tears falling down give no answer,
Seems you don't even know who you are,
Someone take her home away from here.

You just sit there quiet with your fake smile,
Don't tell me, don't tell me,
Everything's alright and you're happy,
Is it something you can't say,
I'll stay all night,
So tell me, so tell me,
What is there to hide?
I'm with you.

A hundred reasons why,
I can see it in your eyes,
Somethings wrong with you,
Always in denial,
Can it really be that bad?
Being who you are?
And tears falling down give no answer,
Seems you don't even know who you are,
Someone take her home away from here.

You just sit there quiet with your fake smile,
Don't tell me, don't tell me,
Everything's alright and you're happy,
Is it something you can't say,
I'll stay all night,
So tell me, so tell me,
What is there to hide?
I'm with you.

Tears falling down give no answer,
Seems you don't even know who you are,
Someone take her home away from, away from here.

You just sit there quiet with your fake smile,
Don't tell me, don't tell me,
Everything's alright and you're happy,
Is it something you can't say,
I'll stay all night,
So tell me, so tell me,
Everything's alright and you're happy

You just sit there quiet with your fake smile,
(You Say that you are, I can tell that you're not)
Don't tell me, don't tell me,
(Coz I know you better or now have you forgot?)
Everything's alright and you're happy,
(You Say that you are, I can tell that you're not Coz I know you better or now have you forgot?)
Is it something you can't say,
(You Say that you are, I can tell that you're not)
I'll stay all night,
(Coz I know you better or now have you forgot?)

So tell me, so tell me,
What is there to hide?
I'm with you
