Tell myself
The first time
That we didn't really belong
A day passed
A month's gone
And we've never felt so strong
Stand our ground and always say
"All we are is all we are"
No matter what they might say

It's strange how things work out
Mostly for the better
But sometimes
Someone adds their negative contribution

Stand our ground and always say
"All we are is all we are"
With open minds it will be this way
All we are is all we are
How did it get screwed up?
Screwed up
I guess with all these changes people fear
To try something other than what they're used to
With no meaning
Or aspiration, what do you have
To look forward to?

Tell myself
The first time
That we didn't really belong
A day passed
A month's gone
And we've never felt so strong

Stand our ground and always say
"All we are is all we are" [x2]
No matter what they might say
