I found a home
Alone in a world
That left you out on your own
You're not the same
When you were too tired to go
It's in the way
I've seen that you never know
You're still afraid of running

All by yourself
And as you sit and breathe
You feel the oxygen
Sink like a stone

Pray that god
Will take you out of here
But you're still alone
It's too late to bring you out on your own
But if you could see the way
You breathe the oxygen
Is all you have

We'll find a way
Times in between us
Yeah but I'm here to stay
There's still a fate to meet us
You're not the same
I felt the earth fall deep
And I'll never change
I just stood without feeling

All by yourself
And as you sit and breathe
You feel the oxygen
Sink like a stone

Pray that god
Will take you out of here
But you're still alone

It's too late to bring you out on your own
But if you could see the way

You breathe the oxygen
Is all you

And as you sink you float away
When your life's a pawn
The world is gone, your mind rolls on

And as you sit and breathe
You feel the oxygen
Sink like a stone

Pray that god
Will take you out of here
But you're still alone
But if you could see the way
You breathe the oxygen
Is all you

And as you sit and breathe
You feel the oxygen
Sink like a stone

Pray that god
Will take you out of here
But you're still alone
But if you could see the way
You breathe the oxygen
Is all you have

Is all you have
Is all you have
