One right, one fight'
One life in one body.
Don't hide, don't lie,
Don't cry, tears bring nothing.

Put upon a planet with rocks and robotics,
Breathing air in peace for free.
Run around think making your mark is the answer;
Life, sweep me off my feet.

I wish there was more than this,
More to run through these veins,
Through my fingertips.
For love, I'd rather be poor than rich,
Rather share my one life.
Give me more than this.

Daylight, come rise,
Come rush over Adam.
One bite, he failed right,
Somehow made love matter.
Human nature makes us chase after temptation,
Forget our simplicity.
Blame it all on Hollywood's writing romantics.
They've played a trick on me.

Oh, how I wish there was more than this,
More to run through these veins,
Through my fingertips.
For love, I'd rather be poor than rich,
Rather share my one life.
Give me more than this.

Oh, how I wish it was more than this,
More to race through my heart,
Through my fingertips.
For love, I'd rather be poor than rich,
Rather share my life.
Give me more than this.

I wish there was more than this,
To run through these veins,

Through my fingertips.
For love, I'd rather be poor than rich,
Rather share my one life.
Give me more than this.

Oh, how I wish it was more than this,
More to race through my heart,
Through my fingertips.
For love, I'd rather be poor than rich,
Rather share my life.
Give me more than this.
