I don't need another explanation
All I'm asking is some information
I'm not begging on my bended knees
Don't believe in everything I read
You never try to show me your affection
Just making out you got the right connection
I can't believe that what you do is real
You never care about the way I feel
What are we doing here
Wasting our time when we've got none to lose
Despite the grief you put me through
There must be something good about you
I never understood the fascination
And everyday I face your accusations
Do we have to hear the same old story
You're doing absolutely nothing for me
Take a closer look into the mirror
You've got the devil sitting on your shoulder
You never heard a word your mother said
So what the hell goes on inside your head
Where do we go from here

I know a place I'd love to take you to
What are we doing here
Wasting our time when we've got none to lose
Despite the grief you put me through
There must be something good about you
It's time to leave behind this desolation
Let's have a different kind of situation
Why don't you pick yourself up off the floor
I want to love you baby more and more
Where do we go from here
I know a place I'd love to take you to
What are we doing here
Wasting our time when we've got none to lose
Despite the grief you put me through
There must be something good about you
