As one we stand here and after As one we stand in our secret places
For it is the way it must be Our mind, our spirits merging

Move in me, your soul in mine I move in you my soul in yours
For this we preserve And all the others are left in decay

The code to creation is in us, that which was all and notihng in all itself Being everything but none, in the shape of a perfect heart

Forever sworn to protect and hold the highest No weary eyes will leave us astray but proud and glorious

Be like the voice in a sad song Linger there where grace belong Be my eyes when IÂ´m blind
And I lead you through the dim

...to lands above the aware.

Inmost precious spirit- the unending ways are perfect The continual- exalted high- by that which shall never part
A higher dogma unknown to man Where none will suffer- and the children of brilliance is born

Desire the soulful covenant, the resting might it holds Empowered by the force with no hindrance or end ItÂ´'s flames, unleashed- come burn me
All hail, hail, hail the gift of the gods

As one we stand for better for worse As one we stand we are sworn Serve what we thought not could be as the moment of splendour is forever

Come to me I meet with you rejoice what's been made at our will We're soon to leave someplace high above what we know
