You thought I'd fall but I didn't do
Evil surrounds me but it's passing me through
I forced myself into your world of shit
I made you listen but you couldn't believe

Never worthy, never of your love
Just a decision that I didn't belong
Taken aback and my black wings they grew
Just as a demon I took form and unfold

Despise in your eyes

I will be the one of the unholy race, forever lost Trapped inside the tomb in an empty grave without your god

A will supreme and a heart black as night
To do as I please and don't care about you
Your strange conviction without respect for man
You'll find yourself engulfed by Lucifers light

Not accepted in the eyes of your lord
I'm not worthy cause I think not like you
Fuck your morals and your world of dismay
Fuck your god you said; welcomes us all

Begging is over, the compassion is lost
All that is left is hatred and mistrust
Another laughter as the story repeats
Your own invention, will it turn unto you?

Despise in your eyes

I will be the one of the unholy race, forever lost
Trapped inside the tomb in an empty grave without
your god

A will supreme and a heart black as night
To do as I please and don't care about you
Your strange conviction without respect for man
You'll find yourself engulfed by Lucifers light
