The world has come to end, the devil is on his own
By that which has been made this earth will be laid to waste

The presence of the one not felt but known
By the end of time long gone are what we feel

Who's the one to take blame, for this shit
Into nothingness come
Reason to great suffering

The flames are burning bright it calls for demise
It has come to bless the devils work the plague which man breeds
No gods to lead you through to another world
promised for you
In this time to come long gone are the love of gods

Rep.bridge

A worlds...demise
The crack of dawn
As it has come to end
A worlds...demise
Heaven falls down
As it has come to end
