"A Little Piece Of Heaven"

There's a little piece of heaven
In your eye today
I think I saw it comin'
But I really couldn't say
But if it turns into a teardrop
On your cheek today
Will it turn into a river
Before I wipe it away
And when we're apart
I feel so alone
And the mystery man
Moves into our home
And takes our little piece of heaven
Our little piece of heaven
Our little piece of heaven
There's a little piece of heaven
In the world today
I think I saw it comin'
But I really couldn't say
But if it turns into a teardrop
On your cheek today

Will it turn into a river
By the end of the day
Never fought on my own
I had too much pride
Couldn't make it alone
I want you at my side
To share our little piece of heaven
Our little piece of heaven
A little piece of heaven of our own
And when we're apart
I feel so alone
And the mystery man
Moves into our home
And takes our little piece of heaven
Our little piece of heaven
Our little piece of heaven will be gone
