I realise how you've been broken,
To bear the guilt of sins unspoken,
Your distant eyes and pained expression,
Unrecognised in your reflection,

Where do you run to now?
When will you ever feel safe and sound?

Yeah

I understand they once controlled you,
Condemned your thoughts and never told you,
Erased your self-esteem and trust,
Stripped down to nothing,
The innocence of a child that's forever lost

And no-one can hurt you now,

You're here and you're safe and sound
Safe and sound, oh yeah,
Where do you run to now?
When will you ever feel safe and sound?
Safe and sound, you're safe and sound, no

And no-one can hurt you now,
Now that you're here you're safe and sound
Safe and sound, oh yeah,
Where do you run to now?
When will you ever feel safe and sound?
Safe and sound, you're safe and sound, safe and sound
