When I was younger I lived in fear
That incarceration of some kind is near
I checked my head intact with rules
I nearly became a goddamn fool

But I've heard voices, not in the head
Out in the air, they called ahead
Through ripped out speakers, through thick and thin
They found a shelter, under my skin

How many darkest moments
And the traps still lay ahead of us?
(Undestructable)
How many final frontiers we gonna mount?
With maybe no victory laps
(Undestructable)

But if you stepped on path of sacred art
And stuck it out through thick and thin
(Undestructable)
God knows you become
The one with undestructable

And so no longer live I in fear
Them are too greedy to pay my asylum bills
This is my life and freedom's my profession
This is my mission throughout the whole flight duration

There is a core and it's hardcore
All is hardcore when made with love
The love is voice of savage soul
This savage love is undestructable

How many darkest moments
And the traps still lay ahead of us?
(Undestructable)
How many final frontiers we gonna mount?
With maybe no victory laps
(Undestructable)

But if you stepped on path of sacred art
And stuck it out through thick and thin

(Undestructable)
God knows you become
The one with undestructable

Undestructable
Undestructable
Undestructable

How many?
(Undestructable)
How many final frontiers
With maybe no victory laps?
(Undestructable)

But if you stepped on path of sacred art
And stuck it out through thick and thin
(Undestructable)
God knows you become
The one with undestructable
(Undestructable)
