The money spent on bombs and guns,
Causes more problems than the ones, their meant to stop.
And although our Prime Minister looks a bit like a man,
At least she had the sense to, STAY OUT OF IRAQ!

Woah!
Left, right, left, right, left, right, left, right.
Woah!
Left, right, left, right, left, right, left, right.

Be careful when you roll the dice when playing with peoples lives,
Not everyone's prepared to die, for what they never thought was right.
You having control of the world may not have been,
The first thing on their minds.

Woah!
Left, right, left, right, left, right, left, right.
Woah!
Left, right, left, right, left, right, left, right.

And as another body hits the dirt,
Their friends and loved ones feel the hurt.
Lost a friend and lost a Dad,
Lost a son that they once had.

Tears rolling down their cheeks,
They're so hungry, they're so weak.
You destroyed what was their lives,
So much terror so much strife.

And as another body hits the dirt,
Their friends and loved ones feel the hurt.
Lost a friend and lost a Dad,
Lost a son that they once had.

Woah!
