Please come to me
Stop doubting everything I have to say today
Everything is changing everyday

Listen to the sounds of evolution
As you go into a place where nothing's old
Where you can relax a while and see
That everything relates if you believe

When you see beyond the times
The crashing silence still remains
Helping you to venture through the planes

Listen to the sounds of evolution
As you go into a place where nothing's old
Where you can relax a while and see
That everything relates if you believe

Drifting on, you're satisfied
That you don't have to run and hide
What's inside you cannot be denied

Listen to the sounds of evolution
As you go into a place where nothing's old
Where you can relax a while and see
That everything relates if you believe
